Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 13 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Damp to start, drier later.

Today:
Remaining damp and drizzly initially for most parts through the course of the morning and afternoon it will likely become drier with some brighter spells for almost all parts. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry but cloudy through the evening and much of the night with only a low risk of some brief outbreaks of light rain. Cloud thickening from the southwest later. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tuesday:
A wet day ahead with persistent and rather heavy rain at times through the vast majority of daylight hours. Perhaps becoming drier overnight. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A damp start but improving picture on Wednesday as rain clears. Mostly dry with bright spells and isolated showers Thursday. Rain arriving from the west overnight into Friday, becoming breezier.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.